Host:

LEAGUE OF LOCAL PLANNING & DEVELOPMENT COORDINATORS OF WESTERN VISAYAS (LLPDC-WV), INC.

SAN MIGUEL CORPORATION

LEAGUE OF LOCAL PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT COORDINATORS, OF THE PHILIPPINES, INC.

About the Event

The 28th National Annual Convention of the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines, Incorporated (LLPDCPI) is being celebrated with the theme: "Local Economic Development: A Strategy for Upscaling Communities Towards Competitiveness and Globalization."

The five (5) provincial local development planning chapters in Western Visayas composed of the provinces of Iloilo, Guimaras, Antique, Capiz and Aklan collegially sponsor the weeklong activity from May 22 to May 26, 2017.

The 28th National Annual Convention is in recognition of the role of the local planning and development coordinators in helping to bring about local economic development through developing programs, projects and activities in their respective local government units.

The event will draw best practices, experiences and strategies of speakers from government and business sectors in the field of local economic development. Successful local business entrepreneurs from Western Visayas were invited to share their best practices and experiences.

Food and non-food items produced by micro-entrepreneurs from the five provinces in the region will be showcased for promotion and marketing as part of the convention package.

As a component of the learning experience, the delegates will be toured around Iloilo City to present significant infrastructure facilities and several historical landmarks of the city.

The 28th National Convention of the LLPDCI hosted by its Region 6 chapter, the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of Western Visayas (LLPDC-WV), Inc. could hopefully give an enriching and learning experience of the tradition and hospitality of the people in this part of the region.

Madamu gid nga salamat!

Greetings to the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines Inc. (LLPDCPI) as you hold your 28th Annual National Convention.

The LLPDCPI plays a vital role in promoting planning strategies for the improvement of Filipino's living spaces. We believe that one factor that will make significant change in the planning and development of spaces is inclusion---to involve the people who will benefit from these spaces ultimately makes the change inclusive and sustainable.

We are glad to see this year's theme, "Local Economic Development: A Strategy for Up-Scaling Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization," for there is a need to look into new, inventive methods of development, especially in aiding less fortunate Filipinos.

We look forward to working with you in our continued advocacy for the marginalized. May this occasion empower you to fulfill your mandate for advancement of the public welfare. We wish you the best of luck in all of your future endeavors.

Congratulations to the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines, Inc. (LLPDCP) for holding its 28th Annual Convention! I commend this year's theme which focuses on local economic development, a "collective and multi-stakeholder process within a geographical area using local resources for economic development."¹ Recognizing the potential and strengths of each barangay, municipality, city, and province will improve their competitiveness nationally and even globally. This would ultimately redound to the benefit of the public through increased employment and improved public services.

This is why the support of National Government Agencies is important to the success of local economic development. Our policies and programs must also consider how our local government units (LGUs) can be empowered so that they can utilize their resources effectively and efficiently.

First of all, the National Government must arm them with the proper budget, and second, we must also enable them to have avenues for income opportunities and proper trainings to make them competitive.

We know that a healthy competition is good as it encourages creativity and innovation. If each of our LGUs is competitive, then together, they will create a nation with a strong economy.

I hope for the best for the LLPDCP. May this convention's goals be achieved and be translated into concrete actions.

My heartfelt greetings and welcome to all members and delegates of the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines, as you celebrate your 28th Annual National Convention this 2017 hosted by League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of Western Visayas (LLPDC-WV), Inc.

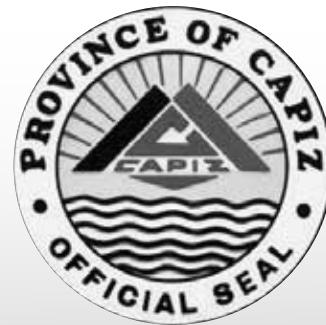

The Palarong Pambansa 2017 has just successfully culminated. Hosted not only by the Province of Antique but by the entire Region VI provinces, I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude and thanksgiving for all the support extended by the different local government units of our region, including the entire league of local planning and development coordinators.

I do believe that Local Planning and Development Coordinators play a very significant and vital role in achieving the vision, mission and goals and it is every leader's dream to make a difference in their territorial jurisdiction as they are tasked to translate this dream into a "blueprint document" or the comprehensive development plan and investment program. The Local Planning and Development Office is the backbone and nerve center of every Local Chief Executive, being one of the mandated departments of the Executive Branch of the LGU. I am also pleased to know that this year's theme for your convention is the "Local Economic Development: A strategy for Scaling-Up Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization", where I expect that your learnings and experiences from inputs shared by your resource speakers and best practices from other local government units will enhance your capacities and competency in leading us, and fellow stakeholders in scaling-up and boosting the local economic productivity of our LGUs.

Congratulations in advance and I wish that your one week stay and visit to our beautiful tourist destinations will be fruitful, enjoyable and will leave a mark of memorable experience that only Region VI can give.

My warmest greetings to the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of Western Visayas, Inc. (LLPDCWV) as you hold your 28th Annual National Convention.

I always believe that one of the keys to a progressive community is anchored on having decisive and careful planning strategies, geared towards community sustainability and development. This is much true when it comes to local governance as, by itself, demands creations of plans and active involvement of local planning and development coordinators. In view of this, I extend my gratitude to LLPDCWV in hosting this 28th Annual National Convention. I am optimistic that this will surely boost the credibility and reliability of your organization, as you continue to perform your duties in pursuing economic development.

From its inception, the LLDPCWV has deeply involved itself in our society's progress and fortified our communal capacity for growth. I take this event to manifest our gratitude for your active involvement in our shared advocacy for economic development and nation-building. May your professionalism and principle of public service distinguish this convention and enrich your legacy in local planning and development.

Let our concerted effort be founded on our communal desire to positive change. Let the well-being of our fellow men serve as our primary motivation in bringing the best in us and become champion for an equitably progressive future.

I wish you an insightful and successful convention.

At the outset, I am extending my warm congratulations to the men and women behind the success of the 28th League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines, Inc. (LLPDCPI). Local Government Units (LGUs) play significant roles in nation building.

It is so because LGUs are at the grassroots and it goes without saying that when local government are strong, self-reliant, and empowered, national economic stability and prosperity will be easier to achieve and realize. It is therefore necessary that we capacitate our LGUs with knowledge, skills and competence to effectively deliver quality public service. Let us bear in mind that national economic development will only be attained through the strong support and commitment of our leaders, including that of our local planning and development coordinators.

Your theme, "Local Economic Development: A Strategy for Up-Scaling Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization" recognizes that we must act locally as we think globally. Our local efforts and initiatives will soon pave the way for the realization of our national goals. May you remain committed in the task of development planning because everything depends on a sound, strategic and sustainable plan. This country is a great nation and I am positive that through our concerted efforts and unparalleled commitment towards honest, transparent and accountable governance, we will be globally competitive. Let us continue to be partners for sustainable development.

My warmest greetings to the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines, Inc. (LLPDCPI) as you hold your 28th Annual National Convention. Let me also take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the LLPDCPI Western Visayas Chapter for taking a lead role in making this event truly remarkable.

Planning is fundamental in governance. Sound planning results in higher efficiencies and productivity. Thus, the critical role of government planners, especially those in the local level, must be underscored and highlighted.

Geared towards the theme, "Local Economic Development: A Strategy for Up-Scaling Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization", the LLPDCPI is tasked to promote sound planning strategies for sustainable environment and community development. This is vital in realizing inclusive growth and national transformation for a developing country like the Philippines.

Regional and local plans must be aligned with the national plan to ensure consistency. The Philippine Development Plan (PDP) 2017-2022 is the first medium-term plan to be anchored on a national long-term vision, or Ambisyon Natin 2040, which represents the collective vision and aspirations of Filipinos for themselves and for the country. Through this PDP, the current Administration will lay a solid foundation for inclusive growth, a high-trust society, and a globally-competitive knowledge economy by grounding its development thrusts on Malasakit, Pagbabago, and Patuloy na Pag-unlad.

It is imperative for the local government units to address bottlenecks to hasten infrastructure programs, and deliver better public services to its citizens. Streamlining of bureaucratic processes from the national down to the barangay level is needed to bring genuine change.

As public servants, we must continue to invest in building our capacity and expertise in every stage of the whole planning cycle to be able to effectively carry out the tasks required of us. Let us work together in creating resilient and sustainable communities that would bring better opportunities for our country.

Please accept my best wishes. Rest assured that I will remain your partner in working towards a stronger Philippines and a better life for all Filipinos.

Mabuhay po tayong lahat!

The 28th League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators Inc. (LLPDCI) National Convention hosted by the Western Visayas LLPDCI Chapter brings another milestone in the history of the Regional League. In the history of the national conventions, it is the first time where the provincial chapters of Iloilo, Capiz, Aklan, Antique and Guimaras in Western Visayas, jointly co-hosts the LLPDCI national convention.

While it is the first convention hosted by the regional league of Western Visayas, it is the 3rd in terms of the venue in Iloilo City. The first hosting was in 1995 and the second was in 2005, both hosted by the Association of Municipal Planning and Development Coordinators (AMPDC) of the Province of Iloilo.

This year's convention with the theme: "Local Economic Development: A Strategy for Up- Scaling Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization" is about recognizing the very important role of the Local Government Units (LGUs) in steering local economic development.

Local Economic Development (LED) is a new local governance paradigm. It is a development strategy that brings about economic growth in the community through community participation with local government steering it towards sustainable local economic development.

This year's convention brings together government and private sector expert stakeholders both from the national level to the local level to bring forth strategies and experiences that geared towards local economic development.

National speakers will highlight strategies from their perspectives while local speakers will underscore local experiences and success stories.

With more than 700 strong local planning and development coordinators in attendance throughout the country, the convention will hopefully bring lessons and experiences that is worthy of emulation by other local government units in other parts of the country.

Other than local economic development concerns, the convention will, once again, showcase the best of the culture, traditions and places in Western Visayas.

As a venue of the national convention, the participant would be able to see the phenomenal growth of Iloilo brought about by the collegial and collective efforts of the Ilonggos in government, private sector, business community and simply- the man in the streets.

Welcome to the 28th LLPDCPI Annual National Convention (May 22-26, 2017) in Iloilo City.

This gathering is a very significant event for the local planners of the Philippines, to meet again their colleagues and friends to discuss the current issues and concerns relative to their functions, duties, responsibilities and even their personal acquaintances. The theme: "LOCAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT: A Strategy for Up-Scaling Communities" is befitting for the pressing demand of our local government and to the country as well to meet the requirements of quality leadership and good governance. I understand that the role local planners is very crucial for our community and very much hoping that this endeavour will prove as catalyst for change. We need to set new directions and commitment to respond for the development which is vital to come up with a better future for our local government unit and to the attainment of the government's vision for the PHILIPPINES 2040.

Your stay in Iloilo is just a short number of days but I hope you will get pleasure from the warmth accommodations of the Ilonggos and enjoy the beautiful places Iloilo can offer. Take your time visiting and bench mark urban development which can be replicated in your respective areas.

Pagpanamyaw!

It is a pleasure for us in Western Visayas, to be chosen as venue, and for our regional chapter, the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of Western Visayas (LLPDC-WV), Inc., as host to the national League's 28th Annual Convention. This is an opportunity for us to showcase our bests in the region, five provinces, namely Aklan, Antique, Capiz, Guimaras and Iloilo.

The theme "Local Economic Development (LED): A Strategy for Up-Scaling Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization" speaks of how we want our constituents to be. As we consider ourselves agents of change and drivers of development, we plan and act with our people in mind. We can only attain development if we improve the living conditions of our people, and helping them to be economically empowered.

With this event, we hope to influence other local government units (LGUs) in the country, to effect change to the communities through LED to become competitive, globally. We have the resources, the skills, and the will. Now is the time to act.

May this five-day activity be fruitful and a wonderful learning experience for all of us. So start to explore the new Western Visayas.

Kruuhaayyy.... from the Province of Antique, where the mountains meet the sea!

It is both overwhelming and challenging that the Province of Antique, one of the provinces in Region VI, has been selected to host the 28th Annual National Convention of the Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines, Inc. this 2017.

In behalf of the eighteen (18) Municipal Planning and Development Coordinators of Antique, I would like to sincerely welcome all the delegates from the entire Regions of the country. Our annual assembly is a manifestation of our commitment and dedication on how we value our profession, duties and responsibilities as development planners, the “nerve center” of every local government unit. This year’s theme “Local Economic Development: A strategy for Scaling-Up Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization” is an appropriate subject of exchanging ideas and learning best practices from our colleagues from the different parts of the country as competent and effective agents of change in enhancing the economic productivity of our communities, municipalities, provinces, regions and the entire nation.

So dear colleagues, I wish all of you a very productive and memorable experience and stay here in the Islands of Panay and Guimaras, the place of famous Visayan delicacies, eco-tourism adventures and the sweet, loving and hospitable “Panayanons” and “Guimarasnons”.

Thank you for choosing and trusting Regions VI to be your host in this year’s national convention.

Greetings to my fellow development planners!

First, I congratulate the League, for holding the Convention in Western Visayas. I think this is in recognition of the dynamism of local development planners in helping create a vibrant economy in this part of the country.

Second, it is with great optimism that I anticipate the conduct of this event, it being an opportune time to enhance the capabilities and broadens the perspectives of my fellow planners in crafting development plans attuned to each community’s peculiarities and potentials. It is always a learning experience when we come together and share ideas and experiences.

Third, while we grind our teeth in this idea called “DEVELOPMENT”, it should not be done at all

Cost, disregarding values that we hold dear. Somehow, it must be grounded and be an influence to the intangible things that make our people free and happy, vigilant, and can make well informed decisions.

Lastly, I wish everyone a happy and meaningful 28th Annual National Convention. God Bless us all!

On behalf of the Provincial Planning and Development Office, I wish you a fruitful convention and warm fellowship.

STEPHEN A. BEDIONES
OIC-PPDC

Greetings to my fellow development planners on the occasion of our 28th Annual National Convention on May 22-26, 2017 with the theme “Local Economic Development: A Strategy for Up-Scaling Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization”. Our annual convention has become a venue for sharing and bonding together for mutual support. We are all brothers and sisters in the planning profession and we could very well learn from others and get support from each other as well. We can never win a battle fighting alone, we could win by being together and supporting each other. In sharing, the “young planners” may learn from the “olds” in the profession who could teach us the wisdom gained from wide and rich experiences over the years. The “olds” may learn from the young the new “in things” that were not taught in the past such as the use of technologies to make our work easier and faster.

On behalf of the officers and members of CALPDCI, I wish to extend my warmest welcome to all of you fellow planners. Thank you for being one with us in the desire to further strengthen our bonds. This is a great chance for us to renew our commitment to the League and somehow temporarily leave our cares in our respective provinces, cities and municipalities behind so that we could return better and re-invigorated planners to do the tasks entrusted to us in our respective areas of influences. Our work then will be our ministry and a life commitment.

God bless us all and Mabuhay ang Local Planners!

My warmest greetings to all the local planners!

On behalf of the Guimarasnons, I wish to convey my heartfelt congratulations to the officers and members of the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines, Inc. (LLPDCI) in recognizing the need for strengthening the capacities of local planners. Being the think tank of the local government units, you are playing very vital roles in the development of your respective communities. Hence, the necessity to keep abreast with the recent technologies and trends with the main goal of achieving the desired living condition of families in your respective localities which are more or less similar to what has been defined by the Filipinos in the “Ambisyon natin 2040”. Moreover, there is a need to always consider the participation of residents in the development that has to be pursued in their communities.

The theme that you have chosen for this year’s convention, “Local Economic Development: A Strategy for Up-scaling Communities towards Competitiveness and Globalization” is a fitting one for realizing this “ambisyon”. Likewise, this calls for a comprehensive understanding of the unique assets both human and natural resources that every municipality or city and province possesses. Rest assured of our full support from the Province of Guimaras along this initiative. The set of priority development agenda that was recently approved by the Provincial Development Council as endorsed by its sectoral committees and duly adopted by the Sangguniang Panlalawigan embodies the development direction that we want to pursue from 2017 to 2022 with due consideration to our local economic drivers and assets. Specifically, Guimarasnons envisioned Guimaras Island by 2035 as the “agri-eco-tourism capital of the region with empowered, self-reliant, resilient and healthy families enjoying a progressive economy and safe environment anchored on the principles of sustainable development.”

Being the father of Guimarasnons, I would like to thank the organizers of this year’s annual convention for considering our province as one of the areas to be visited by the participants in the familiarization tour and for having the manager of the McNester Food Products, multi-awarded local entrepreneur, as one of the presenters in your learning sessions.

Finally, I want to invite you all to experience Guimaras and our Manggahan Festival every May.
God bless!

SAMUEL T. GUIMARÍN, MD, MPH
Governor, Province of Guimaras

Crucial to local economic development is the vibrancy of the micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) sector. The MSMEsector is well recognized because of its significant contribution to employment generation, poverty reduction and sustainable growth. As MSMEs nurture entrepreneurship, they help build up productive capacities and resilient economic systems through linkages between small and larger enterprises and among industries. They also provide livelihood opportunities through simple, value-adding processing activities in agriculture-based areas. The MSME sector is likewise labor-intensive, enhancing employment that leads to a more equitable income distribution and reduced social risks.

Boosting the MSME sector is a process that takes time. It involves not only regulating policies and implementing programs but also shifting mindsets. An entrepreneurial mindset needs to be backed-up with an economic environment that is supportive of business formation and growth. We need to ensure that aspiring entrepreneurs can find the information and services they need to help them establish and sustain their enterprise. Support for people who intend to or are already engaged in enterprise in any industry sector, whether business license facilitation, business training and education or financial assistance is a valuable investment towards achieving and sustaining local economic prosperity and progress.

We at DTI recognize the imperatives of closely working with the local governments in pursuing its mandate of championing businesses towards job generation and to achieve local and ultimately, national economic development.

I commend the dedicated men and women of the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines (LLPDCI) on the occasion of their 28th Annual National Convention, for their dynamic involvement in promoting awareness among our fellow countrymen of the opportunities and challenges of entrepreneurship as well as for providing the needed assistance of the MSMEs in shaping their own future and that of their country’s economic and social development. LLPDCI’s contribution, determination and creativity in helping build a positive entrepreneurial culture is most valued.

Mabuhay kayong lahat!

Ihey flash friendly smiles that reflect an incomparable hospitality. Their amiable faces embody a beautiful culture. They speak in pleasing voices that echo a proud past. Their warm character mirrors a scenic countryside.

Such are the Ilonggos, a humble people with a rich heritage and a birthright to royalty. They are the prime treasures of Iloilo, a historic and celebrated place that is as pleasing as its people.

Less than an hour's flight south of Manila, Iloilo among the country's centers of industry, trade, tourism, culture and education. Accessible by air and sea from most major cities in the country, it boasts of an international airport, modern seaports, excellent road networks, sufficient power and water supplies, reliable communication facilities, first-class tourism facilities and modern commercial centers.

Iloilo's contribution to history is valuable. Considered as the birthplace of Malayan civilization in the Philippines, legends identified Iloilo as the province where the Bornean datus first settled after fleeing a tyrannical rule in their home country.

It is home to freedom fighters Graciano Lopez-Jaena and Martin Delgado, of outstanding legislators like Tomas Confesor and Miriam Defensor-Santiago, noted poets Flavio Zaragoza Cano and Delfin Gumban, acclaimed novelists Ramon Muzones and Magdalena Jalandoni, and business pioneers like Eugenio Lopez and Gregorio Araneta.

It is also a forerunner in aviation, shipping, land transportation, telecommunication, electrification, education, amusement and entertainment, among others. Called the "Queen City of the South," it has contributed much in shaping the country's destiny. Wonder no more why Iloilo is always mentioned in the pages of history books.

Iloilo City, the provincial capital, is a bustling metropolis with a land area of 11,800 hectares and an estimated population of 320,000. With five universities and a number of colleges, its populace is one of the most educated in the country. Giant malls and first-class hotels have mushroomed in the city over the past years.

A leading food producer in the country, Iloilo province's component city of Passi and its 42 municipalities yield a variety of crops, from rice and corn to legumes and fruits. With a land area of 350,285 hectares and a population of 1.4 million, it is an investment hub in the field of manufacturing, food processing and tourism.

A splendor sparkling and shining in southern Philippines, there are more treasures waiting to be discovered in Iloilo. It is a place where the opportunities are never-ending, and the options are wide-ranging.

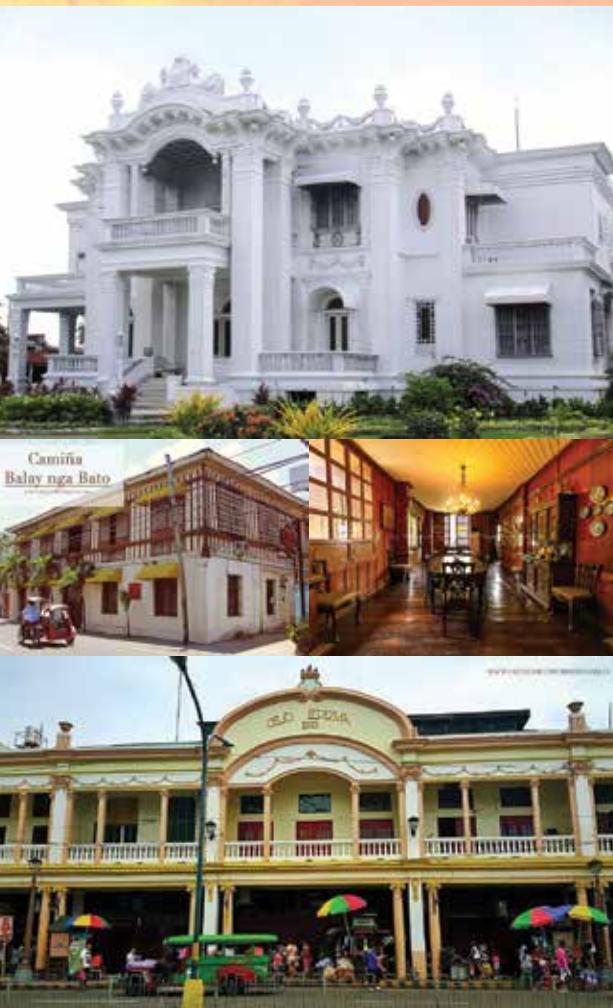

Old Houses

Standing as living witnesses to Iloilo's opulent past are old houses of unique and stunning architecture. Most of them built during the sugar boom, these old houses were once hosts to lavish parties and gatherings. A manifestation of the people's love for elegance, they are noted for their artistic qualities and fashionable interiors.

Head-turners in the illustrado district of Jaro are the imposing Nelly Garden mansion and the striking Lizares Mansion that serve as proofs of the sophistication of the Ilonggo elite. Offering a magnetic view from where they stand, these houses are of exceptional structural designs and are often cited in literatures on Philippine architecture.

Noted for its column of stone eagles that serve as round-the-clock sentinels, the classical Celso Ledesma mansion in downtown Iloilo City is a sight to behold. Standing grandly like the mighty birds guarding it, its neat pillars and balustrades were engineered to emphasize regality.

Driving around Iloilo City is like touring a drive-through museum of old houses and taking a crash course in architecture and history. And it's a sightseeing that will make you imagine with amazement the extravagant lifestyles of a humble people.

Churches

Iloilo, the second oldest Spanish settlement in the country, will surely bring visitors to their knees with its numerous centuries-old churches built during the height of the conquest of the cross. These religious structures are not only houses of worship but are pieces of art that speak not only of the engineering prowess of the friars but also of the perfect workmanship of early Ilonggos.

The most popular of these churches is the 18th-century Miagao church, a canvass of Filipino artistry with its bas-relief of St. Christopher carrying the Child Jesus on his shoulders, surrounded by coconuts, bananas, papayas, and guavas. Declared a national landmark in 1973 and is inscribed in the World Heritage List of UNESCO, it is one of the most photographed churches in the Philippines.

Two towering red spires and ornate windows make the Gothic-Renaissance church of Molo an elegant structure displaying symmetry and balance. It is also made unique by its feature of an all-female collection of saints, earning for it a moniker as a “feminist church.” With its captivating view, it awestruck no less than national hero Dr. Jose Rizal during a brief visit in the city.

One will always wonder why the belfry of Jaro stands apart from the cathedral across the street. But such unknown trivia will always be eclipsed by the marvel that this religious signal tower elicits from tourists. Built in the mid-19th century, it was ruined by an earthquake in 1948 but was recently restored. Fronting it is the Jaro cathedral noted for its Baroque style with an odd touch of Gothic architecture.

Island-Hopping

Iloilo, particularly its northern shores, is a haven for island-hopping where one can enjoy the sun, the sea and the sand. Blessed with pristine beaches, picturesque coves and healthy reefs, they have become a favorite excursion destination and a mecca for travel bloggers.

Cabugao Gamay off the town of Carles has been considered as the selfie capital of the Philippines because it offers a scenic background that generates hundreds of likes when posted on various social media platforms. The nearby Tangke, a refreshing pool inside a natural cathedral, is an enchanting spot full of myths and mysteries.

Sicogon, the location of the 1974 movie “Ang Pinakamagandang Hayop sa Balat ng Lupa” that starred 1969 Miss Universe Gloria Diaz, can be considered the Miss Universe of all the islands in northern Iloilo. Its contrasting landscapes offer a vibrant experience with diverse nature-driven activities for all types of travelers and adventure-seekers.

The historic Pan de Azucar Island off the town of Concepcion, known for its sugarloaf Mount Manaphag, is gifted with a rich biodiversity that makes it ideal for mountain climbing. It also serves as the gateway to the equally beautiful islands of Agho, Macatunao, Sandbar and Talotuan.

Food

Gluttony is not a sin in Iloilo, a culinary society where eating has almost become a hobby. Dine with its people for you will surely get your stomachs filled with sumptuous meals that you would always look forward for the next plate or another dish. Ilonggo hospitality is not complete without the food.

Savor the original Lapaz batchoy, that famous rich clear soup of noodles and pork innards topped with crushed chicharon (pork crackers) and spicy herbs, and you will surely forget the imitations and always recall the true batchoy experience.

Likewise, take a gastronomic delight in Pancit Molo, a concoction of pork-chicken meatballs wrapped in thin dough and cooked in its own peppery broth. Developed by Chinese culinary artists in the late 18th century, it got its name from the place where the first bowl was served.

Never forget to dine at Breakthrough or Tatoy's where there is always a feast of roasted chicken and pigs as well as mouthwatering seafoods like prawns, shrimps, crabs, milkfish, blue marlin, talaba (oyster) and many others, be they served grilled, steamed, boiled, baked, fried or raw.

Crafts

As early 17th century, Iloilo was already exporting jusi and piña cloth to Europe as almost each home then has a loom that can create intricate designs. Terms like abatex (from abaca) and piñatex (from piña or pineapple) were first heard from traders who feast on the exquisite Ilonggo fabrics.

The best of these fabrics are woven out of Miagao where materials for wedding gowns, barong tagalong, terno, handkerchiefs, and table accessories are found. They are products of inherited skills passed down from generation to generation like an endless yarn.

Pasalubong

Bañadas, barquillos, biscocho, broas, galletas, hojaldres, kinihad, pinasugbo, turones, etc. The list is never-ending and they will surely empty your wallet once you have seen them in the display rack. Ilonggo delicacies are the best take-home goodies or pasalubong and are must-taste specialties.

Most of these special treats where products of ingenuity of women who used the discarded egg yolk during the building of the Molo church in 1831

(the whites were used in the construction) to bake biscuits. Thus, the Panaderia de Molo was born and is now considered to be the oldest existing bakeshop in the country.

There is also Biscocho Haus where one can have a bite of a tasty biscocho (buttered toasted bread) that goes well with hot chocolate. For lovers of sweets, the place also offers pinasugbo (thinly sliced dried banana cooked in thick syrup of brown sugar) and piaya (crispy dough with a paste of muscovado or rustic brown sugar as filling).

Also a favorite pasalubong from Iloilo are dried fish and squids found in most marketplaces and supermarkets. Most of these exotic specialties are products of coastal towns in northern Iloilo, a place that has earned the moniker "Alaska of the Philippines" because of its abundant marine resources.

Malls

They are cities within a city. They are busier than the city itself. They draw thousands of warm bodies every day. They are the favorite destinations of Ilonggos from all ages and from all walks of life. They have changed the people's lifestyles in the past decade.

Iloilo is never far behind when one talks about the mall business. It boasts of Amigo, Atrium, City Mall, Gaisano, GT Mall, Mary Mart, Robinsons and SM City, all equipped with modern facilities where one can shop, dine, play and relax under a single roof.

These highly visible indicators of progress have made malling the favorite pastime of Ilonggos. The convenience that they brought to Iloilo is giving birth to a new economic revolution. And at least five more malls are soon to open not only in the city area but urbanizing municipalities as well.

Festivals

Showcasing Iloilo's rich cultural heritage are its festivals that have drawn hundreds of tourists to this part of the country every year. The year starts with the Dinagyang, a colorful celebration where soot-covered dancers perform in choreography along the streets of Iloilo City.

Paraw Regatta is the annual race among swift and colorful native outriggers along the Iloilo Strait, a reminder of how its seafaring ancestors came to Panay Island from faraway Borneo on board these sailboats.

The feast of the Lady of Candles, patron saint of Jaro, is dubbed as the biggest and the grandest fiesta in the country with its month-long exhibits, garden shows, carnivals and cockfighting derbies.

The skies of this southern metropolis are literally illuminated with dancing and sparkling lights during the fiesta of Arevalo, Iloilo's fireworks capital, when it holds the annual Fireworks Festival.

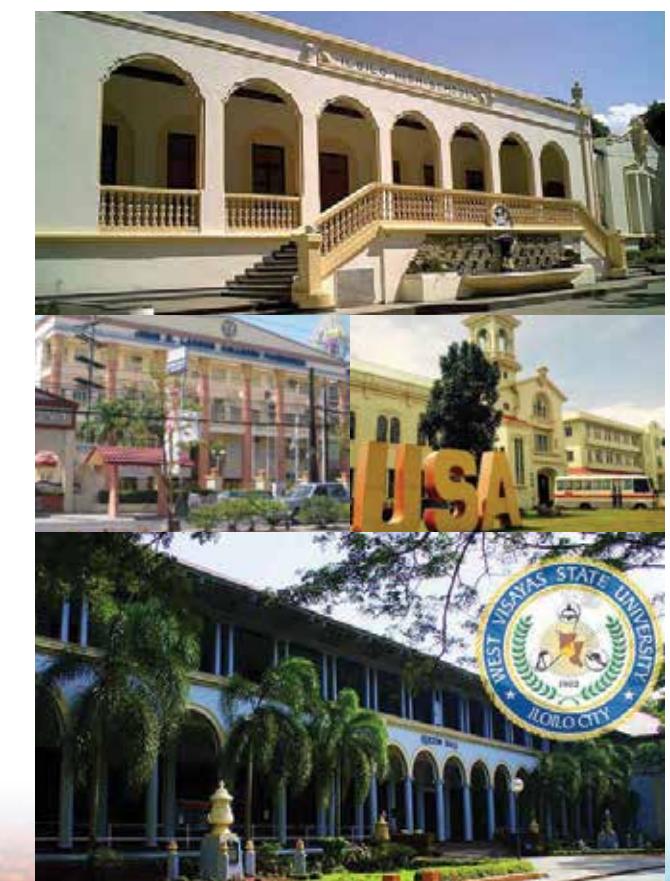

Holy Week in Molo is not complete without the grand parade of life-size religious statues and elaborate carriages owned by the district's elite. Polished to perfection for the Lenten celebration, each piece is a proof of the deep religiosity of the Ilonggos.

Education

Iloilo has been dubbed as "Athens of the Philippines" because of the numerous intellectual giants it has produced. Legends have it that the first school system in the country called the bothoan was opened in Iloilo.

With five universities and a number of colleges, Iloilo is home to educational institutions founded by religious orders during the Spanish regime. It is also where the first school for boys in the country was opened by Jesuit historian Pedro Chirino in 1592.

The unique architectures of Iloilo's school buildings are also drawing a number of tourists. Notable are the colonial buildings at the University of San Agustin, Iloilo National High School and the West Visayas State University.

A Testimony to its Grandeur

One of those who can attest to the grandeur of Iloilo was British poet R. P. Thursfield who had a chance of stepping on its soils in the early 1900s when he was still working for the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank. Acting as spokesperson for the thousands who have been captivated by Iloilo, he wrote in his book "Rhymes without Reason", published in 1915, the following telling lines:

*I have traveled in many cities
I have traveled far and wide;
The capitals of Europe
And America I've tried:
New York, Constantinople
Berlin and Bucharest!
And I've come to the conclusion
I like Yloilo best!*

Profile of Aklan

Aklan, is the youngest of the four provinces of Panay Island following its establishment on April 25, 1956 under RA 1414 as a separate province from Capiz. It has 17 municipalities and 327 barangays with one congressional district.

Location and Land Area

It is located in the northwestern portion of Panay Island. It is bounded by the Sibuyan sea on the northeast, Sulu Sea on the northwest, Capiz province on the southwest and Antique on the western part. It is cadastrally located between latitude 12° 00' N and 11° 19' N and longitude 121° 50'E and 122° 35'E, according to PAG-ASA. It has a total land area of 181,794.64 hectares and the smallest province in Western Visayas. It is mainly an agricultural province since almost 107,423.96 ha. or 58.74 % is wide plains or rolling hills devoted to rice and other agricultural crops. The remaining 74,370 ha. or 40.70% are moderately steep and mountainous areas.

Demography

Aklan has a population of 574,823 as of May 2015 and registered an annual population growth rate of 1.35 percent for the period 2010 to 2015. Kalibo, the capital town has the biggest population size with 80,605 followed by the fastest growing municipality of Malay with 52,973. The most densely populated municipalities are Kalibo with 1,759 persons per sq.km. followed by Numancia with 1,108 persons per sq.km and Malay with 797 per sq.km.

Income Classification

Aklan was classified by the Department of Finance as a second class province but its present income of P1,431,899,942.64 as of 2016 is comparable to other first class provinces in the country. It is ranked first by the Department of Finance as least IRA dependent among the 80 provinces of the country with 42% of its total annual income derived from local sources.

Economic Sector

Tourism

The province is the center of tourism in Western Visayas being the home of the world famous Boracay Island. Adjudged as one of the best beaches of the world, it hosted 1,725,483 tourists in 2016 and generated an estimated tourism receipts amounting to Php48 billion. It is also famous for Kalibo's Ati-atihan Festival held every third Sunday of January. Beyond the sands and the sounds, there are other tourists attractions in the province such as the Bakhawan Eco-Park, of Kalibo, dive sites and beaches of Buruanga, springs and caves of Nabas and its newly installed Wind Power, beaches of Tangalan, Katungan of Ibajay and several festivals and cultural heritage sites of other municipalities.

Agriculture

Aklan is a rice producing province. Other major crops are coconut, banana and cassava. With 12 coastal municipalities, the province has rich fishing ground. The fishery products of bangus, shrimps, crabs, shell fish and other fish varieties supply the needs not only of Aklanons but also the tourists of Boracay.

Industries

Aklan is a major producer of piña and abaca fiber in the country. Famous fashion designers often sourced their piña cloth from the suppliers of the province that we can boast that for every important national event, the cloth of a barong tagalog or terno being worn by a dignitary is from Aklan. Other major industries in the province are: indigenous fibers and crafts, indigenous fibers and crafts, agri and aqua-based processed food industries and gifts, house wares and furnishings.

Other investment potential in the province is the establishment of Business Process Outsourcing (BPO) with its capable human resources and efficient infrastructure facilities.

SOCIAL SECTOR

Health

There are 9 government and 5 private hospitals and 19 Rural Health Centers in the province that cater to the health needs of the Aklanons and the adjacent municipalities of the neighboring provinces.

Education

The Province has adequate educational facilities with the presence of 17 state universities and private colleges. For basic education, there are 30 integrated, 60 secondary and 319 elementary public schools. For the privately-owned school facilities, there are 24 pre-schools, 5 elementary, 25 secondary and 13 integrated schools in the province as of 2016.

Security

Aklan is one of the most peaceful provinces in the country and was declared by the Armed Forces of the Philippines as an insurgent-free province since 2011.

INFRASTRUCTURE SECTOR

External/Internal Linkages

Aklan is strategically located right in the middle of the Philippine archipelago that is easily accessible through land, air and water routes.

Roads

The road network of Aklan covers a total length of 446.15 kms. national roads which are now concreted/asphalted and connects the province to Antique in the western side and Capiz-Iloilo at the Eastern side. The total length of the provincial roads is 298.75 kms. that connects the 17 municipalities of the province to the main arterial road and 1,173 kms. barangay/farm to market roads that provide accessibility in 327 barangays.

Airports

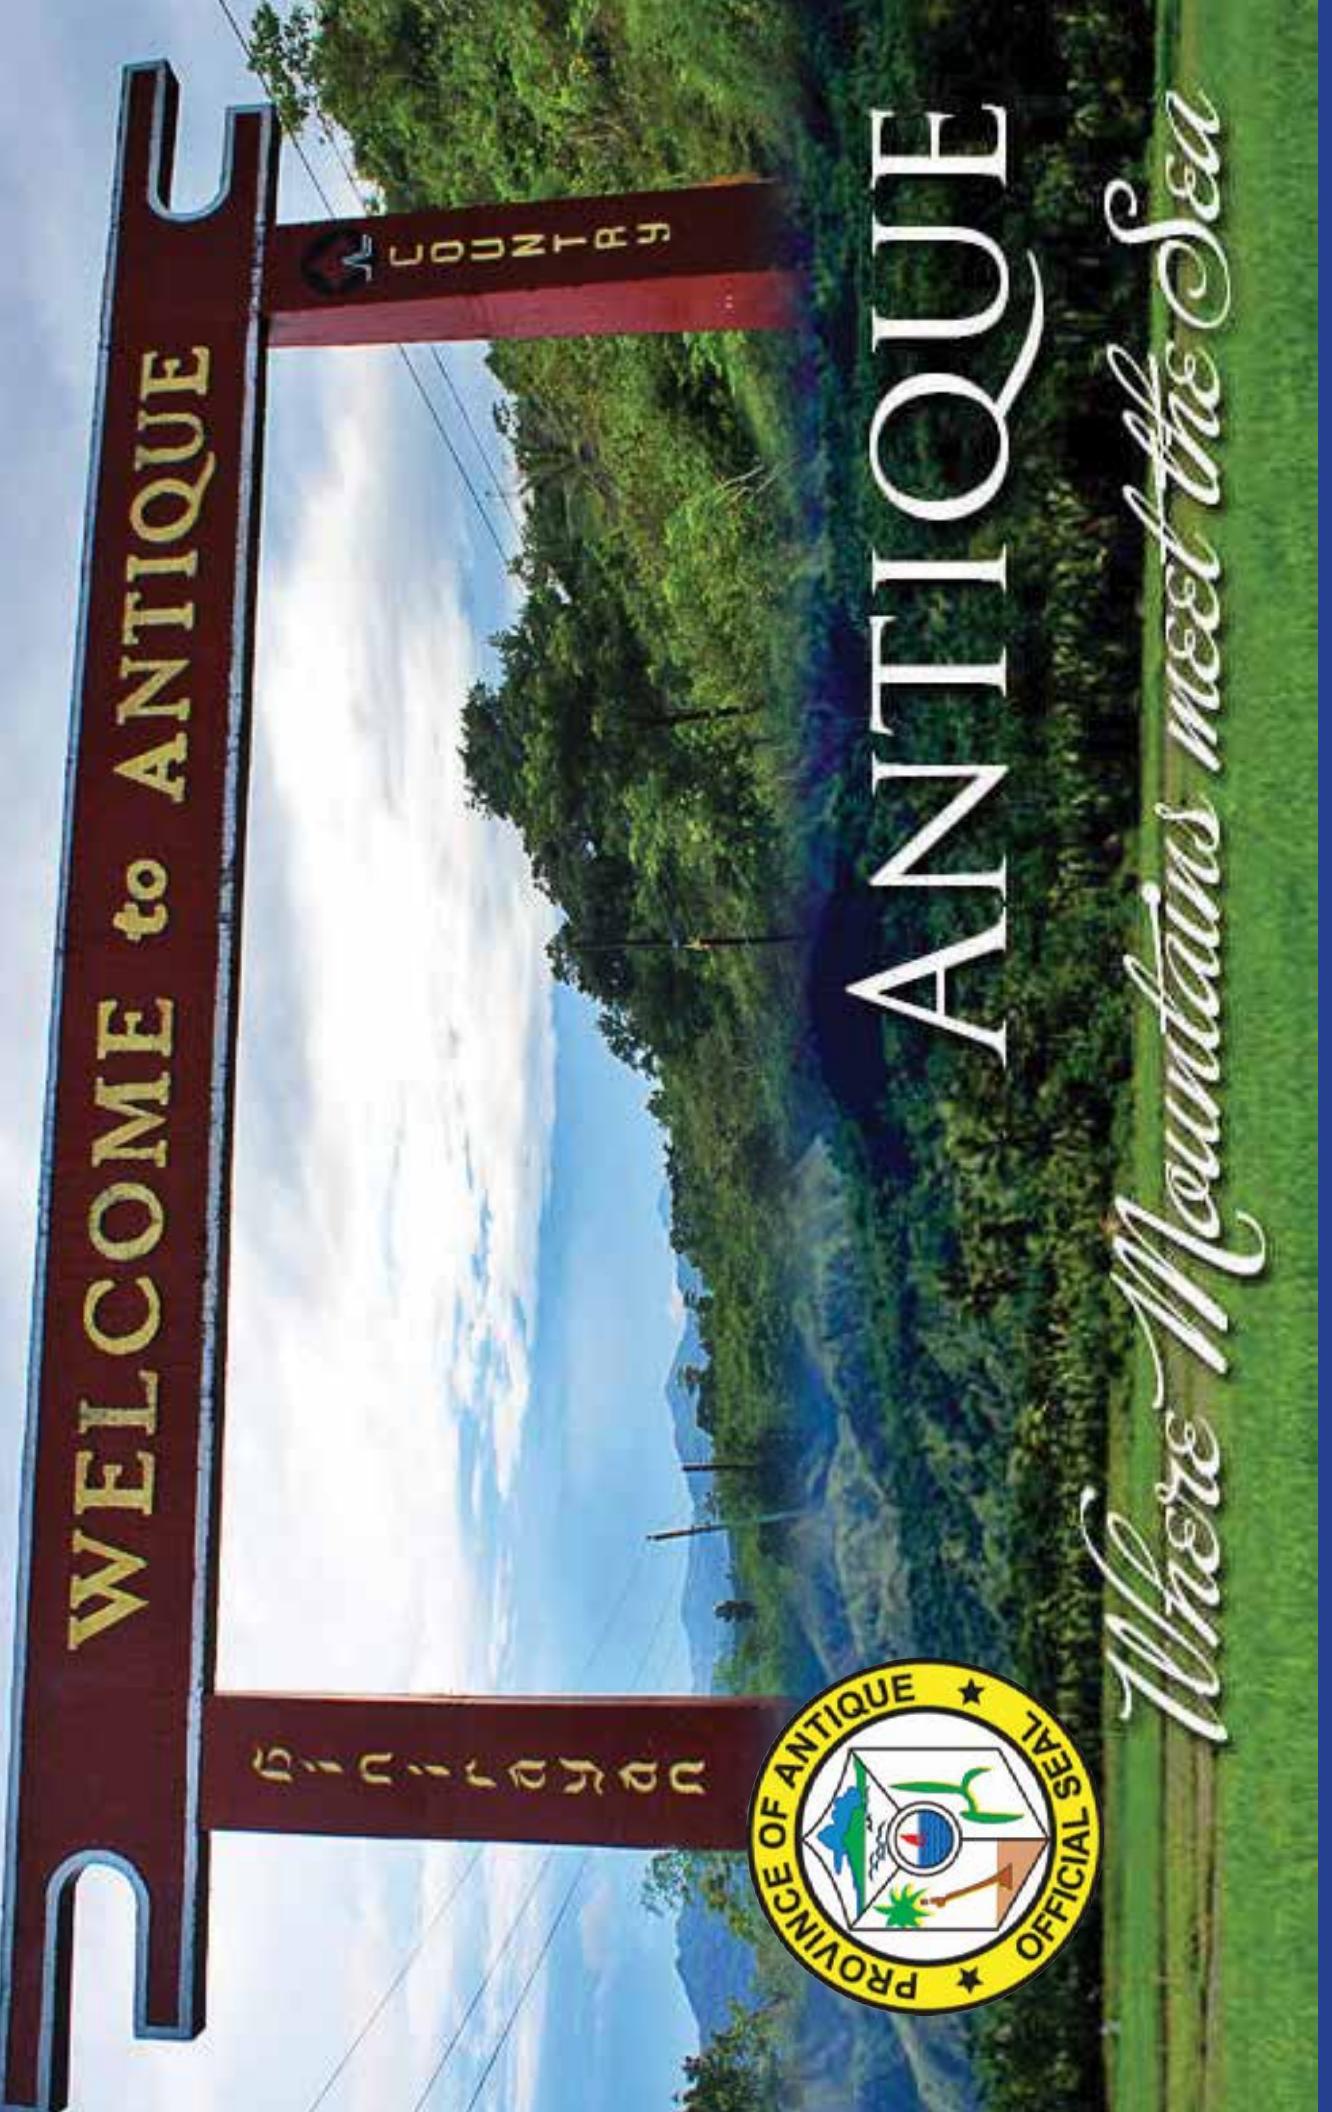

Aklan, being a premier tourist destination, is the only province that has two airport facilities: the Kalibo International Airport located in Kalibo and the Boracay Airport located in Malay, Aklan. These airports serve several domestic destinations such as Manila, Cebu, Davao, Pampanga and Palawan and international destinations in Asia.

Ports

Aklan has 7 ports: the Dumaguit Port, New Washington Port, Buruanga Port, Batan Port, Caticlan and Cagban Ports sand San Viray Port. Caticlan Port in Malay is part of the Strong Republic nautical Highway which makes use of the Roll-on-Roll-Off (RORO) services which covers 919 kms. of land travel and 137 nautical miles of sea travel interconnecting 17 provinces and cities, namely: Oriental Mindoro, Tagaytay, Cavite, Marinduque, Romblon and Batangas in Luzon, Aklan, Antique, Iloilo, Capiz, Negros Oriental, Negros Occidental, Bohol, Cebu, Guimaras and Siquijor in the Visayas.

"LOCAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT:
A STRATEGY FOR UPSCALING COMMUNITIES
TOWARDS GLOBALIZATION AND COMPETITIVENESS"

I am very happy to join the Aklanon community in welcoming you all—our guests, visitors, tourists—to our province. Aklan, dubbed as the oldest province in the country, is famous for its magnificent tourist spots and rich, diverse culture.

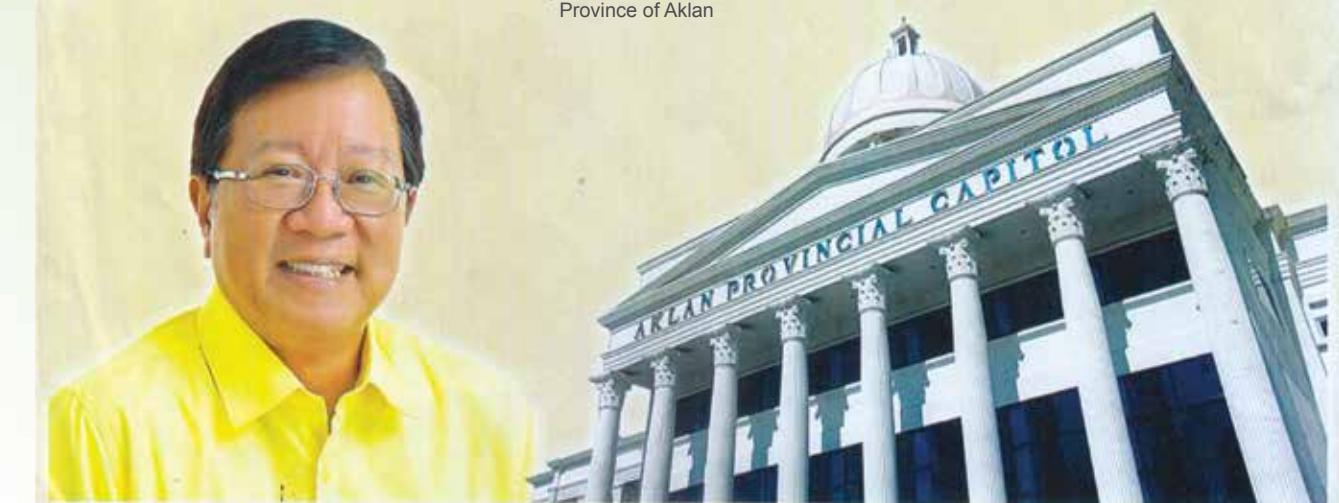

We invite you to visit the world's best beach, Boracay; the 7-basin Jawili falls in Tangalan; the Eco-Mangrove Park of Kalibo and Ibajay; the Lagatik River Cruise and scenic sites of Pinamuk-an and Kapisipisan Islands of New Washington; the Tinagong-dagat of Batan; the picturesque beach and amazing caves of Buruanga; the cold spring of Nabas; and many other wonders in the province such as the century-old churches, rare coral reefs and lush rainforests.

Join also the Aklanons and the local and foreign tourists as they dance with the rhythmic beating of the drums during the celebration of the Mother of all Philippine Festivals, the Ati-atihan.

With many natural, cultural and leisure activities available, Aklan promises wholesome fun and excitement for families and honeymooners.

Experience Aklan... a lasting paradise of no equal!

FLORENCIO T. MIRAFLORES
Provincial Governor
Province of Aklan

"LOCAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT:
A STRATEGY FOR UPSCALING COMMUNITIES
TOWARDS GLOBALIZATION AND COMPETITIVENESS"

AKLAN - a province rich in cultural and historical heritage, a land endowed by God with vast natural resources and home of religious and peace-loving people. We are justifiably proud of Boracay Island which international travel writers have acknowledged to be the world's number one beach. But Aklan is more than just Boracay. Come and see for yourselves. Invest in Aklan.

"BUWIS HAY BAYARAN PARA SA ATONG KAUSWAGAN"

Started commercial operations on August 2016, Palm Concepcion Power Corporation's (PCPC) 135-Megawatt Circulating Fluidized Bed Combustion Power Plant fulfills its commitment to light up industries and businesses specifically in the Visayas region.

The establishment of PCPC in the power industry is a fulfillment of the company's dream to empower more Filipinos and contribute to the economic growth of the country. The power plant's operation brings with it the promise of not just a more stable and affordable supply but also the many benefits of its Social Development Programs focusing on education, people development, infrastructure and the environment—mangrove enhancement, tree planting, and coral farming.

MESSAGE

My warmest Congratulations to all the officers and members of the League of Local Planning and Development Coordinators of the Philippines, Inc. (LLPDCPI) as they converge for the 28th Annual National Convention, on May 22-26, 2017, at Punta Villa Resort, Iloilo City.

Indeed, it is very heartwarming to note that thru this important gathering, our local planning and development coordinators will once again discuss and learn from their fellows on efficient and strategic approach that will revitalize our communities, our country as a whole—such as in planning programs smartly, investing resources prudently, generating revenues and using such revenues not only according to mandated procedures but in the making of self-reliant communities.

Sa amin po dito sa lalawigan ng Aklan, buo po ang aming tiwala sa napatunayan na at maiaambag pa ng ating mga local planners at development coordinators sa pagpapaunlad ng bansa at sa pagpapagaan ng buhay lalo na ng ating mga mahihirap na kababayan. Nagpasalamat po kami sa kanilang patuloy na pag-aarial at pagsusumikap upang makabuo ng mga napapanahon at praktikal na programa na siyang direktang pupuno sa mga pangangailangan ng ating mga mamamayan.

Our diligence has rewarded us with significant gains in business and tourism, but much still remains to resolve to achieve our goals. May your association be our committed partners to ensure a flourishing and welcoming Philippines!

Congratulations!

BAHAY PAMILYA
(PROVINCIAL CAPTOL OF ILOILO)

Let us do our share in helping the government realize the programs and projects beneficial to the people by way of paying our taxes promptly.

The taxes we pay help improve the quality of life of the Ilonggos through improved health care services, effective delivery of basic services and implementation of useful projects.

Taxes are the lifeblood of the government. Please pay your taxes promptly and help build a better tomorrow.

Gov. Arthur D. Defensor Sr.

Province of Iloilo
